Last night we were kept awake by a raucous group of youngsters in the neighborhood. When it got a little too much and continued till 2 a.m I rang up the police control room. Being extremely angry at the insensitivity of the loud revelers I went up to the house myself and gave all of them a piece of my mind. They apologized and kept quiet after that. A few minutes later the cops arrived but I thanked them and requested them to go away since I thought it wouldn't be a good idea to get the immature boys and girls hauled up by them.

And today morning....surprise surprise....I receive a call from the Police control room

Police: Hello Sir Good Morning

Me: Good morning, who is this?

Police: Sir, you had called the control room last night?

Me: Yes I had

Police: Did the police vehicle arrive on time?

Me: Yes they were very prompt

Police: Were you satisfied by their "working behavior" ?

Me: (laughing) Oh yes

Police: Thank you for calling Sir...please do let us know if there is any problem again !

I was....like...WOW. This is the police of my city? What professionalism ! The poor fellas are always roundly abused for being callous, corrupt and so on. But I have to compliment the Chandigarh Police for this fresh and pleasant approach. May your tribe increase ...we definitely felt cared for !!
